I Am Not Drunk

By Anita Carter

Hello Officer
What did I hit?
I swerved to miss it.
Oh Man! Was it another deer?
I hate deer.
I just got this baby fixed yesterday
And I got it back today.
No Officer, I only had one beer.
Honestly, I had only one beer.
Oh wait a minute—I am not drunk.
You think I'm drunk!
Why am I laughing?
You really believe that I had been drinking
There is no way man, I could have been drunk driving
I have my friend in the car.
Where is Carl?
Yeah man, I can walk that white line.
I put one foot in front of the other one and walk the line
I turned twenty-one Thursday.
No wait a minute, I turned eighteen on Friday or Sunday.
I'm sorry man to be laughing so much
I'm just happy that it wasn't my father's truck.
Where is Carl?
I need to talk to Carl.
Oh yeah, I can blow in this
By the way, what is this?
Why is there an ambulance here?
I only hit a stupid deer.
Am I right Officer?
Who is in the other car, officer?
Did they hit me?
I WANT TO KNOW,
DID THEY HIT ME?
If they did, boy am I going to sue them for everything
Why is there another ambulance coming?
WHERE IS CARL?
I WANT CARL
He wanted to drive
But I knew I should be the one to drive
He thinks he knows everything
No he didn't do any drinking
I guess I showed him.
I was able to steal his keys away from him
And he tried to stop me but I wouldn't let him
No, I am not high
But I showed him
Didn't I?
